_____ is a patient under my care. I understand that the Department of Environmental Quality regulations regarding the land application of biosolids to agricultural fields requires setbacks from neighboring residences and property lines; within these setback areas biosolids may not be applied. The standard setback is 200 feet from an occupied dwelling and 100 feet from a property line. Based on my patient's medical condition, I recommend extending the setbacks from my patient's home to a nearby agricultural field that will receive biosolids.

my patient's property line to a nearby agricultural field that will receive biosolids.
