VIDES

Instructions for Completing Virginia Individual DD Eligibility Survey

General Documentation Rules

- Use legal name. Do not use nicknames. (Example: [bold is the correct format] Jacqueline Johnson vs. Jackie Johnson or William Brown vs. Nate Brown)
- The form is to be completed in pen, not pencil.
- The individual's name should appear on all pages.
- The evaluator must be a support coordinator/support coordination supervisor/case manager who has been trained in the administration of the VIDES.
- Ensure that the evaluator's signature (full name) and professional title appear on the form. The evaluator is accountable for the scoring and may be contacted to discuss or verify the scoring of the assessment. No Eligibility Survey will be accepted without the complete name of the individual being evaluated and the complete name and professional title of the evaluator. (Example: [bold is the correct format] J. Cooper, RN = James Cooper, RN)
- The complete month, day, and year must be documented on the form as the date of completion. All three must be present.
- Consider the individual's current functioning in community environments. Complete the attached survey presuming the needed services and supports (paid or unpaid) are not in place for the individual.
- The VIDES must be completed in the presence of the individual, though others (e.g., family members, guardian, staff, etc.) who know him/her well may be informers.
- The VIDES must be updated annually and any time there is a significant change in the individual's life that potentially affects the results of this survey. Refusal to participate may jeopardize continued waiver services.

Individual's Name: _____

2. COMMUNICATION

How often does this person:

Please put appropriate number in the box under the year of assessment.

(Key: 1=regularly, 2=often, 3=sometimes, 4=rarely)

	Date:	Date:	Date:
a) Effectively share information? For example, consider the individual's ability to share non-critical and critical information to effectively communicate with others, including unfamiliar listeners, on a consistent basis.
b) Effectively communicate wants or needs in a manner easily understood by individuals in the community? For example, consider the individual's ability to communicate wants and needs consistently to individuals in the community. Communication of needs to be clear enough to enable others to appropriately identify actions needed to resolve the current concern expressed by the individual.
c) Use at least simple words, phrases, short sentences? For example, consider the individual's ability to consistently able to utilize at least simple words, phrases, or short sentences to communicate basic wants and needs.
d) Ask for at least 10 things using appropriate names? For example, consider the individual's ability to consistently utilize the names of common people, places, or things to identify needs/wants.
e) Understand simple words, phrases, or instructions For example, consider the individual's receptive communication skills to appropriately interpret what is being asked of him/her. Individuals who meet this category are unable to process directives and, in turn, require them to be repeated or explained in greater detail.
f) Demonstrate the ability to initiate conversation For example, consider the individual's ability to consistently produce spontaneous speech to enable him/her to have reciprocal conversations or to convey pertinent information in the event of an emergency.
g) Identify self, place of residence, and significant others? For example, consider the individual's ability to consistently relay his/her own name, home address, phone number, identify individuals who reside in their home, as well as individuals who are consistently a part of their lives (e.g., immediate family, staff, teachers, doctors, or friends, etc.).

Notes/Comments:

Individual's Name: _____

3. TASK LEARNING SKILLS

How often does this person perform the following activities?

Please put the appropriate number in the box under the year of assessment.

(Key: 1=regularly, 2=often, 3=sometimes, 4=rarely)

	Date:	Date:	Date:
a) Engage in purposeful activities (i.e., age appropriate activities that result in an outcome) for at least 5 minutes? For example, consider the individual's ability to maintain consistent focus and stay on task independently without distractibility while completing preferred or non-preferred activities to include, but not limited to activities of daily living (e.g., bathing, dressing, , using the bathroom, eating), household maintenance tasks, reciprocal conversation, etc.).
b) Complete a multi-step (at least 3 steps) task without reminders? For example, consider the individual's ability to independently complete, as instructed, tasks requiring three steps such as activities of daily living, home maintenance tasks, job related tasks, etc.
c) Tell time to the hour and understand time intervals? For example, consider the individual's ability to independently tell time to the hour using either a digital or analog clock and ability to understand the concept of the passage of time, discern how long activities take to complete, and the difference between time intervals (e.g., 15 minute verses 30 minutes, 30 minutes verses 45 minutes, etc.).
d) Count more than 10 objects? For example, consider the individual's ability to independently complete the task of counting more than 10 objects placed before him/her.
e) Perform single digit addition, subtraction? For example, consider the individual's ability to independently complete single digit addition and subtraction math problems (e.g., 3+2=___; 5+3=___; 6-2=___; 8-3=___; etc.).
f) Write or print 10 words? For example, consider the individual's ability to independently write at least ten words using pen or pencil. Additionally, this may include the individual's motor skills precluding him/her from writing legibly and/or the inability to write without copying words that are provided by someone else.
g) Discriminate shapes, sizes and colors? For example, consider the individual's ability to identify primary (red, yellow, blue) or secondary colors (orange, green, purple), common shapes, (e.g., square, rectangle, triangle, circle, star), and distinguish which shapes are larger or smaller than others without assistance.

h) Recognize persons, places, events, objects in their community? For example, consider an individual's ability to discriminate, without assistance, community members (such as police, firefighters, store clerks, doctors, nurses, postal carriers, etc.), places in his/her community (such as stores, police station, restrooms, restaurants, etc.), and common community objects (such as a fire engine, ambulance, traffic lights, crosswalks, etc.).
i) Demonstrate comprehension of numerical concepts such as "one," "a few," and "a lot?" For example, consider the individual's ability to independently distinguish between "greater or less than" concepts such as a single item vs. "a couple of" items using common objects. "A few" can be considered to be three and "a lot" can be considered to be more than three.

Individual's Name: _____

6. BEHAVIOR

How often does this person:

Please put appropriate number in the box under the year of assessment.

(Key: 1=Rarely, 2=Sometimes, 3=Often, 4=Regularly)

	Date:	Date:	Date:
a) Engage in behavior that results in harm or injury to oneself? For example, consider the frequency with which the individual intentionally engages in activities that cause bodily harm to him/herself (e.g., hair pulling, skin picking, head banging, etc.).
b) Demonstrate aggressive or threatening behavior toward others? For example, consider the frequency with which the individual engages in actions with the intent to cause harm and/or fear in others. This can be physical or verbal in nature. This includes behavior as communication, but does not include hitting due to spasticity.
c) Engage in property destruction? For example, consider the frequency with which the individual engages in intentional activities that cause damage and/or destruction to public or private property. This can also be due to neglect of property.
d) Respond to others in a socially inappropriate manner? For example, consider the frequency with which the individual's interactions with others are considered odd, embarrassing, awkward, or otherwise offensive by the standards of social appropriateness as defined by the current social and cultural norms (e.g., slamming doors, throwing objects, cursing, yelling).
e) Engage in inappropriate sexual behavior in public? For example, consider the frequency with which the individual engages in behavior that includes stimulating or exposing sex organs or other regions of the body that are globally considered to be private. This may occur independently or with a partner in an area that does not have a reasonable expectation of privacy.

Notes/Comments:

Individual's Name: _____

7. COMMUNITY LIVING SKILLS

With what type of assistance is this person currently able to:

Please put appropriate number in the box under the year of assessment.

(Key: 1=No Assistance, 2=Prompting/Structuring, 3=Supervision, 4=Some Direct Assistance, 5=Total Assistance)

	Date:	Date:	Date:
a) Prepare simple foods? For example, consider the individual's ability to prepare meals that do not require mixing or cooking (e.g., sandwiches, cereals, etc.).
b) Perform housecleaning and laundry tasks? For example, consider the individual's ability to complete housekeeping tasks such as sweeping, vacuuming, dusting, operating washer/dryer, sorting/folding laundry, etc.
c) Identify and calculate the value of coins and bills up to two dollars? For example, consider the individual's ability to identify a variety of actual U.S. coins/bills and indicate the value of a variety of combinations totally up to, but no more than two dollars.
d) Use telephone to call home, family, or EMS? For example, consider the individual's ability to use the telephone to make important calls such as to his/her home, family, or EMS without assistance (for assessment purposes provide the individual with a telephone and ask how to call home, family, or EMS).
e) Recognize and appropriately respond to dangerous situations that might put health or safety at risk or lead to exploitation? For example, consider the individual's ability to demonstrate practical knowledge of the appropriate response to safety signs (e.g., a stop sign means to stop and wait until it is your turn to cross the street; a skull & crossbones means poison and not to ingest, etc.), as well as the appropriate response to "strangers," and the need to lock the door to one's home.
f) Remain safely in the community without wandering off or becoming lost? For example, consider the individual's ability to remain in his/her community setting without direct supervision. Indicate if the individual leaves/bolts/runs away/wanders from his/her residence/street/neighborhood and is unable to return home.
g) Make minor purchases? For example, consider the individual's ability to use a vending machine, purchase snacks or other small items from a convenience or drug store.

Notes/Comments:

Individual's Name: _____

8. SELF DIRECTION SKILLS

Does this person:

Please put appropriate number in the box under the year of assessment.

(Key: 1=Yes; 2=No)

	Date:	Date:	Date:
a) Make and implement daily personal decisions regarding daily schedule or time management, including when to get up, what to do (e.g., work, leisure, home chores, etc.) and when to go to bed? For example, consider the individual's ability to manage his/her time by determining when to perform routine activities of daily living, set his/her own schedule. This question assesses the individuals' ability to prioritize and make decisions regarding level of importance and need.
b) Make and implement major life decisions such as choice of, type, and location of living arrangements, marriage, voting, and career choice? For example, consider the individual's ability to choose and follow up with decisions about where to live, whether to vote, where to work, whether to engage in an intimate relationship/marry.
c) Demonstrate adequate social skills to establish and maintain interpersonal relationships with family, friends, classmates, co-workers as applicable? For example, consider the individual's ability to demonstrate social skills such as maintaining eye contact, appropriate social distance, appropriate voice modulation, appropriate touching depending on the type of relationship, etc.
d) Demonstrate the ability to cope with fears, anxieties or frustrations; emotionally stable? For example, consider the individual's ability to cope with daily stressors and frustrations. The individual's overall level of emotional well-being is addressed here. It may help to assess the individual's ability to name and describe emotions to the best of his/her ability (e.g., if the individual does not communicate with words, pictures of faces could be matched with the evaluator's words for emotions in order to assess the ability to define different emotions).
e) Demonstrate the ability to manage personal finances, including making decisions regarding allocation of financial resources and keeping track of financial obligations? For example, consider the individual's ability to manage his/her own checking/savings account, pay regular bills, appropriate needed funds, live within his/her budget, etc. If the person has a legally appointed conservator, the answer would be no. Having a representative payee does not necessarily result in a "met" unless the individual is truly unable to manage his/her personal finances.

f) Demonstrate awareness of a variety of community activities such as religious services, continuing education, sports, volunteer organizations, movies, shopping visiting friends, etc., and select and participate in his/her choice of activities? For example, consider the individual's awareness of community activities such as those listed and ability to choose to participate in different venues with family and friends. This question indirectly addresses self-advocacy and the capacity for self-determination.
g) Demonstrate knowledge of and competence for several traits of a good employee/student (as appropriate for age) such as being prompt, attending regularly, accepting supervision/guidance, and getting along with co-workers/fellow students? For example, consider the individual's ability to demonstrate or articulate important traits of either a good employee or student (depending on age) such as being on time, regular attendance/participation, accepting supervision/guidance, getting along with co-workers/fellow students, etc. Discussing the individual's history in a school or work setting may assist.
h) Demonstrate the ability to state a vocational preference and describe with reasonable accuracy the education and skills required? For example, consider the individual's ability to express an employment or career goal (regardless of others' impressions of its being "realistic") and describe the necessary steps in order to attain this goal.
i) Demonstrate the ability to protect self from exploitation For example, consider the individual's ability to avoid opening the door to his/her home to strangers, avoid giving money to strangers, avoid accepting invitations from strangers, and practicing safe internet behaviors while on a computer.
